

The Soldiers Bride

Stumbles and murmurs and looks through the window.....
stumbles and murmurs and looks through the door.....:
That´s all I do without You, I´m so sad and alone.....
that´s all I do since You left, feel so sad without You.....

And still I do feel and still I can´t heal....
and still I can´t easy forget.....:
there are many, so many like Me with a smiling so sad.....
And still I do feel all those who´re like Me, who like Me can´t do nothing but wait.....

To wait for a sign of You, to wait for a line from You,
to wait, just to wait, ever wait.....´till the dawning of the day.....
to wait for the day to come, to wait for another run,
to wait, ever wait, ever wait.....through the days and all the nights.....

To wait for the Peace time, to wait for the end.....
to wait for the end of all that happened before - ever to wait.....

Heaven my Lord...! Please send Him back sane and unhurt....how long.....must I wait.....? for the day when the chimes will ring, day when the flowers spring, wait.....ever wait.....
To wait for another spring, to wait for a place to sing, to wait, ever wait, ever wait.....through the days and through the nights....
